

PSY 6500 Quantitative Methods I (3) (Fall)

PSY 6250 Applied Statistics (3) (Spring) (on-line)

Graduate Courses that can be used for the FCS Allied Hours (select courses you have not already earned credit for as either an undergraduate or graduate student):

Course	Summer	Fall	Spring
Coming Soon 5000 level class about the therapeutic benefits of play			X
5170 Creativity & Cognition			X
5230 Adolescent Development	X	X	X
5240 Mid/Later Life Adult Development and Family Relations -- varies
5250 Theories of Human Development --Varies
5280 Marriage, Divorce, Remarriage -- Varies
5282 Conflict and mediation			X
5310 Foundations of Child Life	X
5311 Childhood Healthcare I (must have completed pre-reqs)		X
5312 Childhood Healthcare II (must have completed pre-reqs)			X
5370 Family Violence	X	X	X
5380 Family Problems	X	X
5390 Gender & Minorities Across Lifespan			X
5430 Families, Consumers & Health			X
5450/6450 Nonprofit Community Organizations		X
5510 Investment & Life Ins Plan for Fam (must have completed pre-reqs)		X
5520 Retirement & Benefits Plan for Fam (must have completed pre-reqs)		X
5530 Income Tax Planning for Fam (must have completed pre-reqs)			X
5540 Estate Planning for Fam (must have completed pre-reqs)			X
5550 Fam Fin Plan Captstone (must have completed pre-reqs)	X
5730/6730 Community Development & Environmental Change			X
5940/6940 Lifespan Attachment Theory - varies
6120 Demographic Methods (must have completed stats through multiple regression)			X
6300 Housing and Community Development - varies
6400 Families and Economic Policy - varies
6560 Survey Research Methods STRONGLY RECCOMENDED		X
6600 Environments and Human Behavior - varies
6630 Healthy Communities	X
6700 Analyzing Community Growth: An Evidence Based Approach	X		